APHRODANA LIVE YOUR LOVE.

Stressed, exhausted, overworked, moody — the factors and feelings of everyday life can get in the way of a healthy sex drive. A significant part of the population is affected by a lack of sexual desire, despite wanting to regain sexual harmony with their partners.

A natural solution for both women and men

APHRODANA from Finzelberg is a “natural aphrodisiac” that is both safe and effective. It helps stabilize hormone levels and optimize enzyme activity, leading to increased sexual arousal. Plus, it contributes to a relaxed mind, which can help foster intimacy.

Sourcing and manufacturing

TURNERA DIFFUSA

APHRODANA is made from Turnera diffusa leaves, which were used by the Mayans for centuries because of their aphrodisiac qualities.

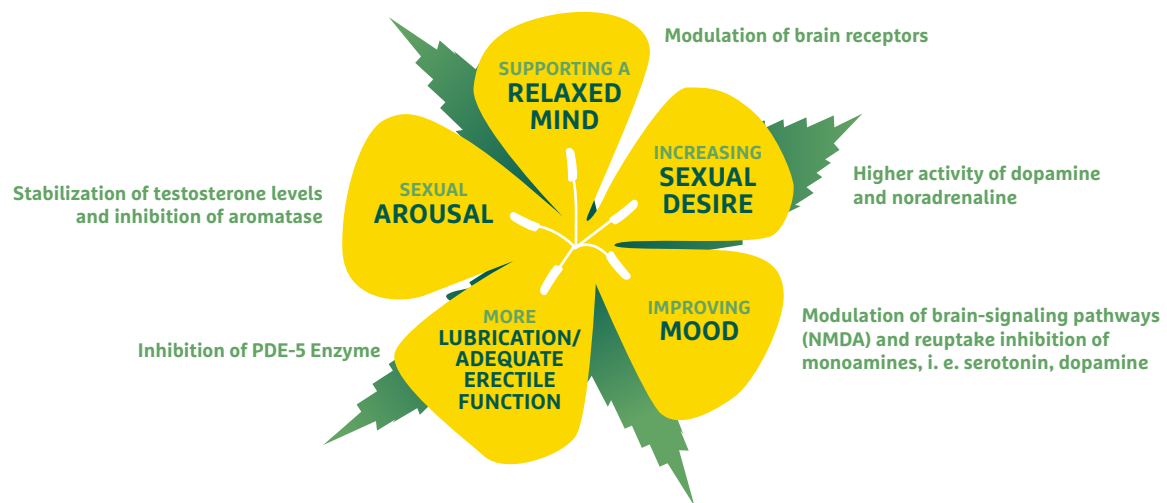

Our expertise in extracting the efficacy from botanicals ensures that each batch meets the highest quality standards.

DAMIANA
Turnera diffusa

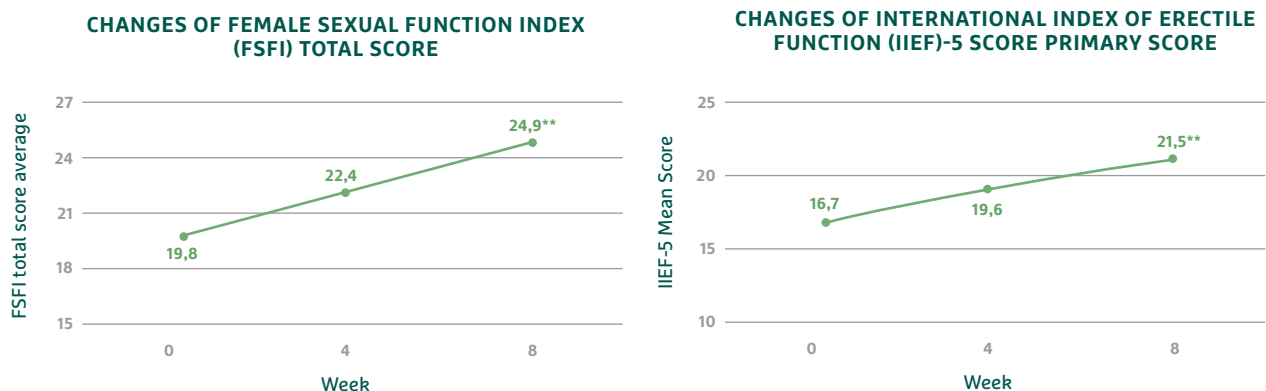

A natural libido boost

APHRODANA helps to stabilize hormone levels and optimizes enzyme activity leading to increased sexual arousal. Besides, it supports a relaxed mind and improves mood.

Enzyme control leads to better sex drive

APHRODANA supports sexual desire in both sexes by inhibiting the enzyme PDE-5 (IC50 ~30 µg/mL), which optimizes the blood flow into the genitals.

Relaxation – a pathway to reigniting desire

APHRODANA interacts with specific feel-good neurotransmitters, particularly dopamine and noradrenaline. This leads to stress reduction, a relaxed mind and a sense of well-being, which in turn can increase sexual desire.
